A SHORT GEOGRAPHICAL INTRODUCTION

The Ural Mountains forms the natural geographical border between two continents – Europe and Asia. The Ural Mountains stretch for 2000 km from north to south and lies in the territory of Russia. The greatest city of the Urals – Yekaterinburg - is located in the Middle Urals, nearly 1500 km to the east of Moscow, the capital of Russia. Yekaterinburg and Moscow are connected by regular air and railway transport.

The Urals is a peculiar mountain region. There are many wild places: rocks, lakes, forests and mountains - which are very interesting for rock climbers, mountaineers and tourists.

There are many fantastic granite rock faces with vertical and overhanging walls in the Middle Urals, of which the most well-known are Chertovo Gorodische, Seven Brothers and Shikhan. The most picturesque area is the limestone rock faces which are located on the banks of the famous Ural River, Tchusovaya. One of the Tchusovaya rock faces is named “Tolstyak” and recently some modern rock climbing routes (from 5 to 7c on French classification) were equipped there. The height of the rock faces is 30-50 m and wild forests surround them. There are many routes (from very easy to very difficult) at the granite and limestone massifs and it therefore is of interest to beginners as well as advanced rock climbers.

Another very interesting and widely known climbing region is a rock area “Yastrebinoe”. It is located in Karelia near S. Petersburg city. S. Petersburg is one of the biggest cities of Russia. It is the historical and cultural center of Russia. Karelia is the region of many lakes and rocks of granite. There are many different routes which are free climbed as well as the routes equipped with bolts (from 5 to 7c on French classification).

The festival will be for those who like rock climbing, adventures and nature.
Dear young people!

If you come to the Urals and Karelia, you will get opportunities:
